FOCUS

One market — Venezuela

// Solutions

Three ways we put capital to work.

01

Purchase order financing

We fund contractors against confirmed purchase orders from operators — covering mobilization, equipment, and materials so execution starts on schedule.

Ideal for — Contractors holding confirmed POs with capital-intensive start-up phases.

02

Factoring

We purchase invoices and receivables at competitive terms, converting slow operator payment cycles into immediate liquidity.

Ideal for — Contractors carrying completed work on their balance sheet.

03

Profit sharing

We partner with contractors on a profit-share basis across drilling and well services, maintenance, logistics, infrastructure, and procurement.

Ideal for — Proven teams pursuing larger scopes than their capital allows.

Purchase order financing, factoring, and profit sharing — each structured around how international operators procure, pay, and audit.

HOW WE WORK

01

Project & counterparty review

We assess the project, the operator behind it, and the contractor's capacity to deliver.

02

Structuring & terms

Financing is structured around the project's real cash-flow profile, with terms agreed in days.

03

Funding & mobilization

Capital deploys for procurement and mobilization the moment documentation closes.

04

Execution & settlement

We stay close through delivery, and settlement follows the operator's payment milestones.

FOR OPERATORS

Execution certainty.

Contractors arrive funded, mobilized, and accountable — with a capital partner invested in on-time delivery.

FOR CONTRACTORS

Capital and deal flow.

Members gain financing for awarded work and visibility on operator projects they could not reach alone.

FOR INVESTORS

Private capital, deployed where it moves first.

Meridian works with a select group of private investors seeking disciplined exposure to Venezuela's oil-services reopening. We do not publish terms or offerings online — introduce yourself, and we will continue the conversation privately.
